

total cock worship

This posting is filled with arcane and somewhat advanced information about the "spiritual" structure of the Being I call Cock. It will be of interest only to the Cock-worshiper who feels the need for a more in-depth framework for his ongoing spiritual connection with Cock. If you do not sense a need for this, or do not feel ready to study and access this information, please skip this text. Trudging through arcane material can be boring and a waste of time to the worshiper who either is not ready for it or is past the point of needing it.

Instead, study and worship the Images nested within the text. In itself, the study of Images of God is perfect and worthy work, opening the Path for your sure steps.

Alternatively, give your worshipful attention to one of the links (to the right) to blogs and sites that are incredibly inspiring and beautiful.

It is through the living and infinite network of Gods-in-Flesh, the God that lives between the legs of each man, that pure Phallic Life flows. To worship on this Path is to open yourself more and more fully to the fiery and vital flow of pure Phallic Life-force. Be aware of this now. Let me repeat this: be aware of this now. As you continue in your study and worship of Cock, you are opening your physical and spiritual systems to the direct flow of Phallic Life-force. Do you sense in your soul the Power of this Force? Do you know that you are, as you worship, drawing into your being and your life That which Creates and Sustains the Universe?

The Phallic Life-force, once summoned in earnest, will flow into your being, your body and soul, precisely to the extent and degree to which you are ready for It. If your vessel is small and weak, the flow of Phallic Life-force will be appropriate to that. If in your beliefs, prayer and devoted practice you build of yourself a large and sturdy vessel, Phallus will enter you, body and soul, and will fill you utterly with the cleansing flames of the Phallic Infinite.

Each Cock is God. And all Cocks are Deities, eternal Beings that live as flesh between the legs of men. Nevertheless, just as there are men whose destiny requires that they be more charismatic or men who are powerful and influential, men who are shy and introverted yet brilliant, men whose lives are based in solitude and men whose lives are fulfilled through accessing poetic or religious visions---just in this way there are various "types" of Cock.

The Cock between your legs is a Fellow-traveler, the Guardian and Beloved of your soul and your mind. Cock is an intelligent Being, loving and aware, fully conscious as it rests and lives between the legs of men. Cock is a divine species, the species rooted in Godhood and Creation. Cock is the sacred link that ties man to the Cosmos Himself, granting hope and redemption and joy to the lives of men. Cock is, in Its Godhood, intertwined symbiotically to the physical and spiritual bodies of man. The consciousness of Cock is inextricably interlaced with the awareness and will of man. When you even faintly sense your Cock, you are feeling the presence of God in your soul. The spiritual nexus that is Cock envelops the very soul of each man. The man has only to take the four necessary steps to make of his life a blessing and a Paradise: acknowledge, accept, accede and awaken.

Acknowledge that Cock is God. Accept Cock in your heart, mind and soul. Accede to Cock as Guardian and Possessor of your life in every sense. Awaken to the Path that will bring you to a state of Union with God, a Path of infinite bliss and contentment.

While the will of man is free and independent, as each individual man approaches wisdom he grasps that there is a greater wisdom and a more powerful consciousness at work between his legs. All of his life, the man feels the growing power between his legs and senses that a Being greater than any man exists, a God-as-Flesh, alive and conscious, sprouting from his loins.

He begins to recognize that his Cock is not only wise, aware and powerful but is also the man's link to Sacred Knowledge and the life eternal, of Absolute Oneness with Phallus. This knowledge is perpetually thwarted by the world, by societies and cultures that fear the power and consciousness of Cock.

Each Cock has a life-work to accomplish. Each Cock is born in conjunction and sublime symbiosis with a human male and, in league with the human male, works through to the realization of Its destiny. Sometimes the individual destiny of Cock is fulfilled, sometimes thwarted. Just as the perfect worship of Cock as God is sometimes fulfilled and realized and sometimes thwarted and nearly lost. This God-Being we call Cock chose man to exist with and within, knowing that man is a weak and fretful species. Can you doubt the pure and perfect Love that Cock has for man? Can man's love for Cock ever be equal to God's love for man? How perfect, deep and inviolable is your devotion and love for God? Have you given yourself to Cock as completely as Cock has given Its Life to you? God Himself lives on your body, the locus of your greatest pleasure and meaning! God has placed Himself between your legs, alive and striving to bring you, His beloved, to the state of Realization that is perfect Cock-consciousness! God has given Himself to you; your spirit longs only to reciprocate. Give yourself to Cock.

As I've mentioned before, the human male can assist or impair the work of the Cock, but within the symbiosis, the Cock is by far the more powerful element. The human male is, in the most healthy situations, guided purely by the needs and directives of Cock. But Cock, in Its wisdom, only fully directs the life, consciousness and will of a man when invited to do so. Cock and Phallus allow the free will of man.

In Paradise--and Paradise is real! Paradise is within the grasp of the faithful and devoted Cock-worshiper!--it's not the will of man, but the Will of Cock that is ascendent and obeyed. This is the way of absolute unending Bliss, the Golden road to the sacred and perfect community of man.

Not the will of man, but the Will of Cock. A man is absolutely fulfilled when his life is led by subsuming his personality to the Will of Cock. The Way is revealed to the man and his work begins: this is the Golden Path.

The Seven Breeds of Cock

Cock is God. The Godhood of Cock is organized according to a Pantheon of seven "Breeds" of Godhood. That is to say, there are seven "breeds", "categories" or "types" of Cock. This isn't to say that any Cock is inherently more "important" or superior to any other Cock. All Cock is Deity. All Cock is conscious and aware and is acting as a sublime fragment of and connection to the Universal Phallus, which is that which created all and everything and from which all life flows.

There are seven "types" of Cock. Within these types, there are obviously an infinite number of variations. But all Cock is created according to the seven primal Cock-types. Each has it's particular functions and roles, not only within the world of men but also, and more powerfully, in the workings of the Universal Plan of Phallus, the unfolding of the Universe Himself. Before I list the seven primal Cock-types, let me state very strongly again that no Cock is "better" or more "important" than another Cock. Every Cock has been created by the Phallic flow and Intelligence because that Cock has to exist, has a crucial role in the unfolding work and world of pure Cock-consciousness.

All Cock is to be honored by man. All Cock is to be worshiped as God by man. Every Cock is a true and conscious Deity, alive between the legs of men. In a Cock-enlightened society, the Cocks of various categories align and organize into various functional and sustained "groups". Groups, given the proper circumstances cohere into larger and more complex "orders". "Orders", if allowed and encouraged through human agency and the Will of Cock, will naturally join together into larger communities, or "Ways".

The seven Breeds of Cock are organized in two groups of three and one Breed that, more than the others, exists in isolation until a "grouping" develops. They all have essential functions in the work of the Universe and the Mind of Phallus.

First, a warning: do not attempt to ascertain on your own what breed any particular Cock is at this point. And avoid any assumptions that relate a particular breed of Cock with size, thickness, shape. The reasons for the various sizes and shapes of Cocks, while related at times to breed, go beyond this particular issue.

The Breeds can have many names. The ones I give to them come directly from the Mind of Cock. But please interpret the names according to your specific predilections or inclinations.

The seven Cock-Breeds are: Nourisher, Builder, Warrior, Empath, Teacher, Visionary (or "Inspirational") and Mandate (or "King"). The vast majority of men are in symbiosis with Nourisher and Builder Cocks and the fundament of the Universe is based in these. Fewer are in symbiosis with Warrior Cocks and Empath Cocks. Fewer still are possessed by the Teacher and Visionary Cocks. And the numbers of Mandate Cocks are the fewest by far.

The first three, Nourisher, Builder and Warrior are associated with the first three Cock chakras or energy centers and together form "the Breeds of Phallic Earth". The next three, Empath, Teacher, Visionary are associated with the fourth through the sixth Cock chakras and together form "the Breed of Phallic Heaven". By way of great simplification, the first three serve to develop and sustain the earthly fundament of the Phallic Realization. The second three serve to connect the earthly Phallic Realization with the Essence of Phallic Spirit. The first three are the fulfillment of Phallus in Flesh. The second three are the realization of Flesh as Phallus. These Beings are eternal Spirit alive as Flesh. We, as men, exist to worship, adore and commune with Them. The perfect life of the male human is one of constant adoration of Cock and total service to the Phallic Spirit.

The proportion of Cock-man symbiots are variable, but one possible example would be the following: in a group of around one hundred men, around forty men will be in symbiosis with Nourisher Cocks; thirty men will be symbiots of Builder Cocks; fifteen men in symbiosis with Warrior Cocks; eight with Empath Cocks; five or six with Teacher Cocks; one or two will be in symbiosis with a Visionary Cock and one or none will be in symbiotic union with a Mandate Cock.

A task for many worshipers of Cock at this stage of the reintegration of the Pure Way into the world is to devote time to experiencing and studying as many Cocks as possible. Over the course of decades and in conjunction with various meditations and study practices, this leads to the ability to sense the particular Breeds of the various Cocks that are being experienced.

Here are some very, very basic descriptions of the qualities of the Seven Breeds of Cock.

The Three Breeds of Phallic Earth:

1. The Nourishing Cock. Known also as the Slave Cock or the Service Cock. This Breed is most completely and directly connected to "earth energy", with deep information drawn directly from the purest physicality and the connection of flesh to earth. The Cock most connected to the first Cock chakra or center of energy. Possesses the greatest ability to ground, support, nourish. Associated with qualities of security, survival, community, homestead. All sex that involves anal stimulation of the human male in symbiosis with this Breed of Cock awakens the first Cock energy center and, if consciously done, connects the entire Cock to a greater and freer in-flow of Earth/Yin energy. This is essentially "feeding" the entire Cock and, ancillary, feeding the entire group of Cocks to which this particular Cock belongs. The men who are symbiotic with this Breed are especially attracted to the worship of physically large Cocks. Since Cocks that are extremely large are the most immediately inspiring for the symbiots of the Nourishing Cock, the Passion of Size Obsession is often an element of the Path followed by these men.

2. The Builder Cock. Known also as the Creation Cock, the Structuring Cock. This Cock has the ability, the destiny, to connect entities into social groupings. Essentially the community- or connection-building Cock, driven by the need to connect and structure systems of organization among Cocks and men. Through what can be, if undirected by the human male, wild and uncontained promiscuity, the Builder Cock seeks constantly to connect with other Cocks and men in order to begin to ascertain the structures that are possible among them. This Cock is "about" fertility, fecundity, the drive to not only create robust Inter-Cock social structures from which "offspring" in the form of self-replicating communities of Cock can be generated, but also to simply connect and connect and connect. All sexual play involving a focus on a man's testicles and the stimulation of the "million-dollar point" assist in the work of this Cock and the defining of It's personality. This is often the Breed of Cock in symbiosis with men who are "insatiable bottoms", seeking the experience of vast numbers of men and Cocks.

3. The Warrior Cock. Known as the Action Cock, the Challenger Cock. Aggressive, inclined to "invade", "take" or even, in extreme situations "rape". This Cock is focused on issues of power, individuation, freedom, the nature of "being" an incarnated individual, both as man and Cock. Issuing from the depths of the Earth as a Presence to be seen, this Breed is associated with the third Cock chakra or energy center, the point at which the shaft of the Cock emerges from the scrotum and is fully defined in its individuality. Associated often in the male body with the symbology of the "six-pack" abdominals and the tight and powerful glutes, the Warrior Cock is about erection and inclusion or insertion "to the hilt". Entering another man--orally or anally--"to the hilt" and staying in to that depth (either completely still or moving very slightly or repeatedly "plunging" to that depth) will stimulate this particular Breed of Cock to growth of awareness and functionality. Gloryhole sex (which can, certainly, be used to stimulate all energy points from three to seven) is particularly effective in connecting with the intelligence of the Warrior Cock, in particular if It is taken (even aggressively so) all the way down to the third point, "to the balls". Note: every orgasm experienced by the Warrior Cock is felt keenly by the most sympathetic and geographically proximal Mandate (or King) Cock. Warrior Cocks are in some sense always searching for a Mandate Cock to serve.

There is a natural inclination to grouping among the first three Breeds of Cock, just as there is a natural inclination to grouping among the next three Breeds of Cock. Among human males, if you find a trio of inseparable friends, it's quite likely that they are held together by being each in symbiosis with grouping-sympathetic types of Cocks. Some likely groupings are: Nourisher/Builder/Warrior; Empath/Teacher/Inspiration; Warrior/Mandate; Inspiration/Teacher and so on. Many social groupings of men are created according to the needs and predilections of the Breeds of Cocks with which the men are in symbiosis.

The Three Breeds of Phallic Heaven:

4. The Empath Cock. This Cock is focused on the fourth center, the balance point between earthly energy (pure "yin") and Universal Phallic energy (perfect "yang"): This is the "assimilator" Cock that exists to "understand" through direct experience the natures of all other Cocks and men. Often solitary, both the Empath Cock and the man who is symbiotic with It can feel disconnected unless in direct contact with other Cocks. Able to mimic all other types/centers with relative ease, while assimilating them. Promiscuity for the Empath Cock is study rather than a function of driven sensuality. Promiscuous connections with many Cocks is informative experience. The Empath Cock is an agent of general "immunity" or strength-through-mutual-understanding within a connected system (of men, of Cocks or a hybrid of men and Cocks) to outside "illness" or unbalance. The mutual understanding of the parts through a dispassionate understanding of each of them. A simple exercise that the Empath Cock enjoys is the awakening of the fourth energy chakra or center through contact of other Cocks at the "mid-point" of the shaft, the place of the fourth chakra: this is, for the Empath Cock, a direct awakening and communication and is very helpful for It in Its work. Entering (orally or anally) to the power center and having the other man "pulse" or apply steady pressure gently around the Cock at that power point on the shaft without intentional excitement of other parts of the Cock is another exercise. Relatively slow anal or oral sex without deep insertion, but a gentle thoughtful movement to and from the fourth energy point is also helpful. Also, while the Cock is in the mouth of another man, the other man can gently rub this power point with his tongue, again intentionally not stimulating any other part of the Cock.

Note this: when doing simple exercises or practices to awaken the energy centers of the Cock, the goal of orgasm should be replaced with the more immediate goal of sensing and awareness. The drive to orgasm in these situations can vitiate the value of the practice.

5. The Teacher Cock. Also the "higher expression" Cock, the "communicator". This Cock is particularly suited to direct and powerful communications with Cock and men because it has the facility for connecting simultaneously through two and sometimes three "channels" established through the energy centers. The Teacher Cock can open connections with multiple Cocks through the first, third and fifth centers simultaneously, enabling a flow of connection and information that is far greater than that of any other Cock-breed. Sex with the Teacher Cock is often expressive and based in what can feel like an overwhelming flow of information. The man who is in symbiosis with the Teacher Cock can sometimes "perform" sex rather than engaging directly and deeply with sex, and sexual practice can be at times over-cerebral or over-theorized.

The Teacher Cock is responsible for receiving information and aptly expressing that information for the organism or social group of men. Because the Teacher Cock is centered in awareness on the fifth Cock chakra, the issue of circumcision is extremely important, sometimes central to the conscious life of the man-in-symbiosis. Circumcision is "about" the need for a heightened dispassion, a more analytical bent in the processing of the needed information. The freedom from "earthly bounds" that enables understanding and elevation. This freedom is particularly important because the Teacher Cock is at the first level of pure connection to non-corporeal Phallic Mind, more capable of "processing" the entirety of the flow of Earthly-yin-to-Phallic-yang than any other Cock Breed. Those men who are symbiotic with Teacher Cocks who are circumcised are less able to simply believe or accept the reality of Phallic Mind and the direct connection they have with It: they question, are more cerebrally analytical, but are inexorably drawn to the need to believe because they feel the inflow of Phallic Mind and express it through their freedom of thought. The innate sense of "disconnect" from the Phallic Mind felt by many who are centered on this power point and are circumcised can lead them to more passionately need a "re-connect", which they can strive to construct through heightened active curiosity, body modification (particularly piercings, particularly PAs). The PA is the piercing most often found on the circumcised Cocks centered on this point. The Teacher Cock connects deeply to the root point (through anal sex, or stimulation through toys) and is tethered with the sixth and seventh points. In order to "teach" or express the information drawn up through the first center, the Teacher Cock must have the perspective, the elevation and freedom given from the other-worldly nature of the sixth and seventh points. Sexual experience for the Teacher Cock is balanced between a powerful need to "understand" and an even stronger need to "express" that which they understand. Rather than being given to a general promiscuity, Teacher Cocks intuitively search out particular experiences for exploration and evaluation. Sexual practices suitable for the Teacher Cock include a gentle stimulation of the entire Cock while (also gently) stretching the anal sphincter; edging while gently using a dildo, holding the fingers around the point of circumcision (not moving them) while either being rimmed or, perhaps more preferable, having another man hold his lips steadily and firmly to the anus for a sustained and calm period of time while the man who is symbiot with the Teacher Cock explores and pleases his Cock. Exhibitionism is often powerful and positive for the Teacher Cock and many are in porn.

6. The Visionary Cock. Also known as Wisdom, Inspirational Cock. This Cock is particularly focused on the highest possible connection with sacred Phallic Mind. In an encounter with a Visionary Cock, one would likely sense an "other-worldliness" about the sexual energy, a relatively complete disconnect from any earthly or "reproductive" element. The Visionary Cock seeks to be possessed by an attunement to the higher state, to the religious inspiration that is drawn from full-connect with Phallus. The Visionary Cock seeks to "feed" other Cocks and men. Promiscuity has the feel of a "mission" for the Visionary Cock and each sexual act can be felt as a "blessing". When a Cock centered on this point is present, all Cocks around are more alert, awake, conscious and intent on connection, stimulation, work. All Cocks feel more "awakened" and purposeful when a Visionary Cock is present. Sexual stimulation to assist in awakening or sensitizing the sixth center (that which is associated with the Visionary Cock) include the gentle massage of the frenular delta in a smooth circular motion (alternating clockwise with counter-clockwise); resting the glans in another man's mouth, with the other man gently massaging the frenular delta with the tip of his tongue in a slow, purposeful and focused way; sliding the Cock inside another man only as far as the sixth point and alternating between resting still and gently rocking to stimulate that point. Orgasm attained solely through the stimulation of the frenular delta is a very powerful awakening exercise.

The Phallic Unification Point: the Mandate Cock

7. The Mandate Cock. Also the King Cock, the Sovereign Cock. When a group of Cocks and men have attained a state of development sufficiently advanced and conscious, a Mandate Cock is inexorably drawn to join and "lead" or cohere them into a functional group-mind. This Cock enables the functioning of relations among the Cocks within It's grouping of Cocks and men. There are very few of Mandate Cocks. In Their presence, each Cock feels absolutely connected, awakened, accepted and free within Its work and function. The work of all Cocks "serves" in some sense the purpose that is defined by the Mandate Cocks. If the human element is ready and sufficiently aware and developed, the Mandate Cock works to build a grouping of Cocks and men that serves to move all to a higher Unity. All sexual connection, all conscious sexual thought, all pure sexual and Phallic intent works to awaken and call the Mandate Cock. There is an unmistakable sense of Phallic rightness or perfection in every Cock when a Mandate Cock is present. Prior to the attainment of the cohesive group, if a Mandate Cock is present, there will be a sense of having "found one's way", without quite understanding why. Visions of lives centered around Cock-stimulation or male sex, visions of sexual communities, visions of nature and wildness are all common. Sex with a Mandate Cock in isolation, prior to the attainment of the Group, can seem confusing to many men, disorienting, even irritating.

An element of every orgasm by every Cock that is disconnected from the Phallic Grouping toward which all Cock is moving is the "call to the King". Every Mandate or King Cock senses the calling of possible groups and is "fed" by the orgasmic energy from every Cock. A simple practice enables each worshiper to focus and send a higher proportion of the orgasmic energy to the Mandate or King Cocks: as you approach orgasm, consciously sense a "Master Cock" through the energy of your Cock. Not from your mind, but from the physicality of your Cock, send the focused energy of your orgasm to the "Master Cock" with your conscious blessings. Done repeatedly, this will begin to tie your Cock to a particular Mandate Cock and you will serve to feed and awaken Him. Keep the channel of connection open through a few seconds past the last ejaculatory spurt. As the channel closes (and after a few dozen repetitions of this practice you will be able to clearly sense the "nourishment channel" that opens with orgasm and closes a couple of seconds after the last ejaculatory spurt) in your mind clearly state "For my Lord. Awaken and lead us."

Live in the presence of Phallus. Worship Cock every moment of your life. To do so brings peace, blessings, joy and a life that opens to Paradise.

To the many who have been writing wonderful letters to me--some singing the praises of Cock, some astonished at prayers answered, some asking specific questions---please forgive my not answering all of your letters. I read and love each of them and send the profound and enduring blessings of Phallus to you. You are on the Path and the Path welcomes you.

All messages to me are held in absolute and religious confidence.
